

Members of the FCC:

I would like to go on record as totally opposed to the use of cellular telephones on airborne aircraft. As a frequent flyer, and cell phone user, I can assure you that a few "frequent flyer" cellular users, and I see them on every trip I make, will cause a great disruption to the vast majority of passengers. I am greatly concerned that not only will the noise level on aircraft rise, but your average passenger will not be happy with the total disregard shown by the "frequent flyer" cell phone user in a closed aircraft. Please, do not allow the use of cellular telephones on aircraft.
